GEN. STOESSEL ON PORT ARTHUR'S FALL

Many of the Russians are Bitter Against the Government.

Battle Fleet Continues on Its Journey—Destination Is Yet Uncertain.

NO FIGHTING IS REPORTED

The Baltic Fleet.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 18.—The admiralty here denies a report published by the Matin of Paris to the effect that the Russian authorities are in receipt of a dispatch from Rojestvensky, saying he is leaving Madagascar without awaiting the division commanded by Botrovsky. There is every indication that the Russian second Pacific squadron intends to cruise in the Indian Ocean for some time, probably until the arrival of the division now being made ready at Libau.

Gen. Stoessel Talks.

London, Jan. 18.—The Express' correspondent at Nagasaki had an interview with Gen. Stoessel, in the course of which the general said:

"The loss of 203 Meter hill and subsequent capture of the forts, combined with deadly marksmanship with the terrible 11-inch shells, the depressing effect of the death of Gen. Kondratenko and the fearful increase of scurvy really fixed the time of capitulation. It is quite untrue that I dissented from the unanimous decision of the final council of war. Our final urgent requests for relief were never answered."

The correspondent adds that conversation with other Russian officers reveals great bitterness against and denunciations of Alexieff for his failure to properly fortify Port Arthur and his "cowardly flight" by the last train from the fortress. They say the torpedo boat destroyers that escaped before the surrender carried all regimental and naval colors to Chefoo. Union officers denounce the incapacity and folly of the government in entering upon the war and declare all the men who return to Russia from Port Arthur are revolutionists in spirit. These opinions were openly expressed in the presence of Stoessel, who remarked:

"Let them talk; they have earned the right to think as they please by braving untold deaths for our country."

Natives Are Fleeing.

Mukden, Jan. 18.—The population of the city is leaving in expectation of the Japanese advance. Natives report that forty thousand troops from Nogi's forces at Port Arthur have advanced north to join Field Marshal Oyama.

Vessels Going South.

London, Jan. 18.—A dispatch from Perim, off the coast of Arabia, states that two Russian warships and two steamers of the volunteer fleet, and two torpedo boats, passed there today bound south.

Carrying War Material.

London, Jan. 19.—It is stated that three vessels flying the German flag have left Hamburg and Bremen during the past fortnight loaded with arms, ammunition and stores for the vessels of the Russian Baltic fleet. The war material is to be put aboard the Russian warships at some unknown place in the Indian Ocean.

OVER AT LAST.

Textile Strike Ended at Boston Today.

Boston, Jan. 18.—The strike of Fall River Textile workers on for a half year, was settled today at a conference and employees will return to work at once. The wage scale will be adjusted with the help of Governor Douglas.

MAY GET BAIL.

Federal Court Fixes Mrs. Chadwick's Bond at $20,000.

Cleveland, O., Jan. 18.—The federal court today accepted $20,000 bail for Mrs. Chadwick. Her attorney will now apply to the county court to fix bail on the three indictments against Mrs. Chadwick.

JO REPUDIATES THAT INTERVIEW

Says the Governor Could Have Verified it.

Alludes to Governor Beckham As a "Callow, Inoffensive Young Governor."

THE WAR IS NOW ON

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 18.—Senator Jo Blackburn today arrived and replies to Governor Beckham.

He says that had the governor taken the trouble to inquire, he would have learned that the interview credited to him, Blackburn, by a Washington correspondent, had never been submitted to him.

"I did not know till I arrived here that anything had been published in regard to any talk with the correspondent," said Senator Blackburn.

"I could have assured the governor that I did not say I had a contempt for him or his conduct of party affairs."

It is evident that the feeling between Blackburn and Beckham and their friends is not very cordial, however. Blackburn denies several of the statements made by Governor Beckham in his reply and refers to the governor as the "callow, inoffensive young governor."

It appears obvious that both sides are itching for the fray, and that Beckham was only too anxious for an excuse to get at Blackburn, to first ascertain to what extent the interview was authentic.

Blackburn has attracted considerable attention by reason of the controversy, and politics has aroused much more interest in the capital than was anticipated when the legislature convened.

There is little prospect of a reconciliation, as the interests of the two politicians and their friends are too diverse. They both seem to have their eye on the same thing.

THOUGHT TO BE SINKING.

Mr. George Detzel is in a Critical Condition Today.

Mr. George Detzel, who has been in ill health from liver trouble for the past year, is thought to be slowly sinking today at his home, 719 Madison street, his many friends will regret to learn. He has been critically ill at times for several months, but rallied and was until recently able to be out. His last attack has kept him in bed about a month, and today he is hardly alive, and little hope is entertained for his recovery.

A BAD EGG.

Graduate of Oxford Confesses to Many Thefts.

New York, Jan. 18.—James B. Walker, aged 42, of Chicago, a graduate of Oxford college, with many aliases and a long criminal record, was yesterday sentenced to five years in prison for grand larceny.

Walker pleaded guilty to stealing $1,300 worth of jewelry from the home of Mrs. Viva Brewster of this city. He also confessed to having robbed fifteen or sixteen other houses in this city.

BURNS FATAL.

Child Who Died in Ballard County Buried in Oak Grove.

The four month old daughter of Sydney Callys, of Terrell's farm in Ballard county, was buried yesterday at Oak Grove.

BYRD'S STATEMENT.

Says He Will Prove Conspiracy to Murder.

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 18.—In the trial of Wm. Britton, charged with the murder of James Cockrell, at Jackson, Attorney Byrd, for the prosecution, made the opening address. He said he would prove Judge Hargis, Britton, Curt Jett and others conspired to kill Cockrell, who was shot from the court house window.

NIEDRINGHAUS WON THE SENATORSHIP

St. Louis Man Received a Safe Majority.

Yesterday's Vote Did Not Settle Formal Election Takes Place Today.

BALLOT TODAY UNDECISIVE

Jefferson City, Mo., Jan. 18.—Thomas K. Niedringhaus of St. Louis yesterday received a majority of the total vote cast in both houses of the Missouri legislature for United States senator to succeed F. M. Cockrell. He received a majority of eight on joint ballot.

The voting in both houses, resulted as follows:

House—Niedringhaus, 79; Cockrell, 58; Kerens, 1; Bittinger, 1.

Senate—Niedringhaus, 11; Cockrell, 22. Total, Niedringhaus, 90; Cockrell, 80; Kerens, 1; Bittinger, 1.

Under the law yesterday's voting does not finally elect a senator. The official balloting will be done today, when both branches of the general assembly will meet in joint session.

The first joint ballot for U. S. senator resulted in no election. Result, Niedringhaus, 87; Cockrell, 83; Kerens, 6.

TIME EXTENDED

For Filing of Answer of Gov. Adams in Colorado.

Denver, Colo., Jan. 18.—At a joint session of the general assembly yesterday afternoon to take action on the contest filed by James H. Peabody for the office of governor, a request of attorneys for Governor Adams for an extension until 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon of the time to submit an answer to the charges made in the contest papers was granted by a vote of 61 to 34. By the same vote the legislature decided to proceed at once with the taking of testimony in the contest.

GENERAL DENIAL

By China of Intention to Violate Neutrality.

Washington, Jan. 18.—Secretary Hay has addressed a note to the Russian ambassador here, acknowledging receipt of the Russian complaint of violation of neutrality by China.

Through interviews with the Chinese minister here, the secretary was acquainted with the Chinese position in this matter and of a purpose to enter into a general denial of the Russian charges, which is probably also known now to Count Cassini.

KILLED A WOMAN.

BISHOP'S QUARREL GOES INTO COURT

Irvine to Sue Bishop Talbot for Alleged Slander.

The Preliminary Papers Were Served But the Amount of Damages is Not Given.

IRVINE WANTS FULL INQUIRY.

Philadelphia, Jan. 18.—The controversy between Bishop Talbot and Rev. Irvine took a new turn today and it is probable that the whole affair will be answered in the civil court. Irvine has filed notice of a suit for slander against Talbot, asking damages. Papers were served on the bishop who came to this city to preside at a meeting of the general committee on Sunday school instruction of the Episcopal church.

Irvine's action was the result of a suggestion made by Rev. Dr. Fulton, editor of the Church Standard in a letter to Rev. Daniel L. Odell of this city during the early stages of the controversy, in which the suggestion was made that if Talbot had made statements concerning Irvine which were not true he had redress in the courts. Today Irvine's attorney filed notice of a suit and papers were served upon the bishop by a process server.

The amount of damages asked by Irvine is not known. It is believed the deposed priest brought the legal proceedings against the prelate because of the failure of the ecclesiastical board of inquiry recently appointed by Bishop Tuttle to investigate his charges against the bishop.

London, Jan. 18.—A dispatch from St. Petersburg reports that an earthquake at Shemakha, (76 miles north west of Baku), buried hundreds of people in the ruins of a building in the lower part of the town, which was densely populated, despite a decision after the earthquake three years ago, that no more houses should be built there.

FELL A CORPSE.

Tragic Death Of An Indiana Atheist in Church.

Winnipeg, Ind., Jan. 18.—The sudden death last night of Richard Bossy during church services in the Wilders' Station chapel has caused a commotion among saints and sinners alike.

Bossy had long been known as an atheist, and was alleged to have said on various occasions that he had no use for churches. However, last night he entered the church to seek shelter from the midwinter storm.

Soon after he entered Rev. James McCary made an earnest plea for gospel recruits, and during the course of his talk said: "There is one unbeliever in this congregation, a sinner who cannot be saved from death tonight unless he becomes a Christian."

The prophecy of the preacher was soon fulfilled, when Bossy, with an anguished cry of "Oh!" fell back in his seat a corpse.

FIRE OUT.

Swarzchild & Sulzberger Lost Entire Stock, $600,000.

Chicago, Jan. 18.—After forty-eight hours continuous fighting, the fire in the storage warehouse of Swartzchild & Sulzberger, at the Union stock yards was placed under control about midnight. The contents of the warehouse were entirely lost, but the walls of the building are unharmed. The entire loss is estimated at $600,000.

LOUBET ACCEPTS RESIGNATION.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 18.—An unconfirmed report is current at St. Petersburg today that Gen. Treppoff, chief of police of Moscow, was assassinated while en route from Moscow to St. Petersburg. The report is given some credence owing to the fact that several attempts to assassinate the chief of police have been made.

12,000 Men Strike.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 18.—The strike started at the Putlloff shipbuilding works yesterday, is spreading. Today twelve thousand workmen in the navy yards went out in sympathy.

PUTTING IT STRONG.

But Doesn't It Look Reasonable. This may read as though we were putting it a little strong, because it is generally thought by the majority of people that Dyspepsia in its chronic form is incurable or practically so. But we have long since shown that Dyspepsia is curable, nor is it such that Dyspepsia can, shhh it is such a difficult matter as at first appears.

The trouble with Dyspepsia is that they are continually dieting, starving themselves, or going to opposite extreme or else deluging the already over burdened stomach with "biters," "after dinner pills," etc., which invariably increase the difficulty even if in some cases they do give a slight temporary relief. Such treatment of the stomach simply make matters worse. What the stomach wants is rest. Now how can the stomach become rested, recuperated and at the same time the body nourished and sustained.

This is a great secret and this is also the secret of the uniform success of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. This is a comparatively new remedy but its success and popularity leaves no doubt as to its merit.

The Tablets will digest the food anyway, regardless of condition of stomach.

The sufferer from Dyspepsia according to directions, is to eat an abundance of good wholesome food and use the tablets before and after each meal and the result will be that the food will be digested no matter how bad your Dyspepsia may be, because, as before stated, the tablets will digest the food even if the stomach is wholly inactive. To illustrate our meaning: plainly, if you take 1,800 grains of meat, eggs or ordinary food and place it in a temperature of 98 degrees, and put with it one of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets it will digest the meat or eggs almost as perfectly as if the meat was enclosed within the stomach.

The stomach may be ever so weak yet these tablets will perform the work of digestion and the body and brain will be properly nourished and at the same time a radical, lasting cure of Dyspepsia will be made because the much abused stomach will be given, to some extent, a much needed rest. Your druggist will tell you that of all the many remedies advertised to cure Dyspepsia none of them have given so complete and general satisfaction as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and not least in importance in these hard times is the fact that they are also the cheapest and give the most good for the least money.

CAR BREAKERS.

Negroes Given a Lively Chase, But They Escaped.

Special Officer Dick Tolbert, of the I. C., assisted by Officers Gourieux and Potter, of the police force, gave a party of box car breakers a chase late yesterday afternoon but the officers were unsuccessful in catching them.

All day yesterday five negroes, supposedly, killed chickens belonging to negroes residing near the south yards of the local I. C., and when the men were seen to break a box car seal and enter a car of shelled corn, the negroes telephoned the police.

Officer Tolbert secured the regular police and went to the yards, but the men saw them first and ran. The officers followed until they saw the fugitives were out of reach.

Any woman may fool a man, but not one case in a thousand can keep him fooled.

PUSHING WORK

LABOR NIGHT AND DAY ON IMPROVEMENTS.

Railroads Fear New Track Will Not Be Completed—Fear the Rising River.

A force of 400 men are working night and day at Wickliffe in order to complete the new railroad line from Wickliffe to Fort Jefferson before the spring rise of the Ohio river, which invariably increase the difficulty even if in some cases they do give a slight temporary relief. Such treatment of the stomach simply make matters worse. What the stomach wants is rest. Now how can the stomach become rested, recuperated and at the same time the body nourished and sustained.

The new route was surveyed some months ago and work was commenced immediately. The contractors have been greatly handicapped by the cold and freezing weather, but they are working the steam shovels and scoops, both night and day.

The new route runs directly through the town of Wickliffe and over a dozen houses had to be moved from their foundations in order to secure the right of way. The town of Wickliffe is brightly illuminated night by large numbers of gasoline and electric lights. The new line runs through the large hill at Wickliffe, and it necessitates a nine foot cut. This is one of the deepest cuts ever made in this part of the country for railroad construction.

BOARD OF WORKS.

Little to Come Before It This Afternoon—Broadway Contract.

The regular meeting of the board of public works will be held this afternoon, but only a few matters of minor importance will come up.

In regard to the failure of the bitulithic contractors to finish Broadway on time, it is likely the city will claim none of the $20 a day forfeit. The matter has been referred to City Engineer L. A. Washington. According to a member of the board of works, the contractors worked every day when the weather or the condition of the ground would permit, and when given the credits due them, the city will have nothing coming to it on account of the $20 a day forfeit.

The bitulithic contractors are today packing up the boiling pots and tools preparatory to shipping them to Birmingham, Ala., and will have everything out of the city except the mixing plant by the end of the week.

The mixing plant will remain here, Supt. Nichols says, until spring when the contractors will have repair work to do.

WILL BE PERMANENT

LEE LINE EXPECTS TO RUN ITS BOATS ALL YEAR.

Will Build Boats Adapted to the Trade and Compete With the Railroads.

The building of the new Lee line boats for the upper Mississippi and Ohio river trade will mean the opening of all year round traffic between Memphis and Ohio river cities, says the Memphis Commercial Appeal.

When these boats are put in commission it will really mean more than the mere building of the boats; it will mean that river traffic and passenger service between Memphis and up-river cities will be put in competition with the railroads, leading to these points throughout the entire year instead of during the high water season.

The boats are to be built peculiarly for the up-river trade. The draft will be somewhat lighter than that of the present boats plying the river above here, and the craft will be constructed with steel hulls. The boats will be built at a cost exceeding $100,000 each, and will be the finest afloat on the Mississippi.

It is possible better freight rates can be secured from the railroads when it is assured that all-year-round navigation can be had between Memphis and upper Mississippi river and Ohio river cities.

Memphis is considered the head of all-year river navigation at the present time, but with the building of the new Lee line boats the river will be made navigable beyond St. Louis and up the Ohio river during the entire year.

ISLAND QUEEN

Floated Helplessly in Ice—Row Boats Used to Take Her to Harbor.

The Island Queen, the popular pleasure boat which visits Paducah every year, barely escaped being lost at Cincinnati Monday. A dispatch says:

The Coney Island company's boat, The Island Queen, drifted helplessly along the ice-filled Ohio river today for an hour at the mercy of the current and heavy ice until finally tow-boats sent from Cincinnati towed her to a safe harbor at Coal Haven. A small gorge that had been a mile above for several days broke and the ice came down with a rush and hit the boat. The cable snapped and the big steamer with no steam up swung out to the middle of the stream and floated down, a part of the mass that covered the surface of the river.

The escape of the boat was witnessed by watchmen and they were ordered to the rescue. Ploughing through ice the boats met the Island Queen after she had floated three miles. Slowly the big boat, guided by its ill-fated companions, was steered into the coal harbor.

The first examination of the Island Queen leads to the belief that the boat escaped injury.

LEGISLATORS WANT TO MOVE CAPITOL

Chaotic Conditions Threatened at Frankfort Now.

Senator Wheeler Campbell Attempts To Show That the Governor Cannot Restrict the Legislature.

A BIG GRAFT IS IN SIGHT

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 18.—The desire to prolong the legislature and grind various axes that need sharpening has cropped out on several occasions recently.

Senator Campbell Cantrill, who had been painfully reticent, broke loose yesterday, and Senator Wheeler Campbell, of Paducah, attempted to show that the governor had no right to limit the legislature to any special subject.

Senator Campbell Cantrill addressed the body as to the best site in Frankfort. He urged the erection of the new capitol on the grounds owned by the state on the high east hill contiguous to the Feeble-minded Institute. In answer to the argument that the hill is beyond water protection, he thought the feeble-minded children, over 160 in number, were being poorly cared for by the state. He thought a system of waterworks should be constructed sufficiently large to supply water for the penitentiary, the Institute and the new capitol, and operated with the $5,000 now devoted to buying water for the prison alone.

Senator Cantrill said the sites offered were not assessed at more than one-fifth of the price now asked for them, and that the legislature ought not to be unloaded upon by real estate agents. He further said that one site, which was really assessed at $2,500, had been offered to the legislature at $35,000.

Senator Cantrill closed his address after strongly urging the selection of the Arsenal hill site.

Senator Whitt offered a resolution authorizing the appointment of a joint committee from the senate and the house to draft and submit a bill to the next general assembly, putting the capitol question to the voters for settlement.

Senator Whitt said the reason he offered his resolution was because the people were asking enormous prices for their lands. Senator Ferris made a hot speech saying he was in favor of moving the capitol away from Frankfort, because the people of Frankfort had permitted the defeat of Senator E. H. Taylor to the house, the man who has done more than all others to secure for Frankfort the location. He thought the people of Frankfort were too ungrateful to be honored with a capitol. Senator Allen made a strong speech urging that the Whitt resolution comes under the governor's call.

Senator Campbell, of Paducah, read extracts from the constitution of Kentucky which he claimed indicated that the governor had no right to limit the legislature to any special subject. He further said the legislature is a sovereign body, and that the governor has no right to require it to act upon anything.

President Thorne said the Whitt resolution was the smoothest thing of the kind he had ever seen and capable of bringing about the most intricate conditions. He held that the resolution was out of order.

It seems that trouble is brewing among members of the legislature, and the settlement of the capitol site question is far from closed. The owners of the Hunt property, on the South Side, which seems to be the most favorable site offered, asked originally $15,000 for about twenty-three acres, but to make the site complete it will take about six acres more of the same land, and for this small additional tract the sum of $20,000 is asked. The members have made an investigation, and claim to have discovered that the entire property is assessed at the insignificant sum of $5,500.

Many of the legislators now claim that they will not, under any condition, vote to purchase the Hunt land and a very considerable per cent have been making investigations as to the legality of moving the capitol to Lexington.

One member has openly declared that some of the best lawyers in the state had informed him that it

BUY OF THE MAKER

BUY OF THE MAKER

These sales are indeed a boon to housekeepers, enabling them, as it does, to buy what furniture they want or need at 20 per cent less than our regular prices, and when you consider how much lower our regular prices are than the usual retail price, we being manufacturers and selling at retail what retail dealers pay for their goods, you will appreciate what this sale means.

We have any number of choice pieces bought for the Holiday trade that are great bargains, as well as a host of other great bargains.

would be entirely lawful to remove the state house from Frankfort. From the general conversation of the members, it would be but little difficulty to move the whole thing from Frankfort if the same could be done lawfully. The indications now point to an indefinite postponement of action and much wrangling, although the members generally seem inclined to pull together harmoniously, but do not hesitate to express themselves to the effect that they will not be imposed upon by having to pay several times the assessed value of property for a new site.

Mr. Robert E. Littell, who was until recently manager here for the R. G. Dun agency, has been made manager for the company at Evansville, Ind., to succeed the regular agent, who died a short time ago. Mr. Littell was succeeded here by a brother of Mr. John J. Saunders, manager of the Louisville agency.

WAS RICH.

Although His Neighbors Thought
Him Poor.

Chicago, Jan. 18.—Working at odd jobs, pinching every penny and accepting charity even to the cast-off clothing of neighbors supposed to be better off than himself, Daniel Mahanna, 71 years old, of Batavia, died richer than many of those who had taken pity on him. The discovery was made yesterday, two months after his death, when the wife, 70 years old, who was suing for divorce, and the son, who was supporting her out of his meager earnings as a mechanic, appeared in the probate court at Geneva and produced unrecorded deeds to 400 acres of land near Batavia, worth $150 an acre.

Besides this $60,000 worth of real estate it is believed that Mahanna may have left considerable personal property in concealment. The deeds to the land he owned bore the date of 1865 and the property had not been occupied for years.

SHILOH PARK

Will in the Near Future Have Railroad Facilities.

The improvements which have been made at Shiloh Park, Tenn., during the past two years and the total lack of railroad facilities leading to that place have led to plans on the part of J. F. Mosby of Cincinnati for financing the building of a railroad to that point. The line will run from Corinth, Miss., where connection is made with the Mobile and Ohio and the Southern railway to Shiloh park, a distance of 17 miles. There is no railroad line closer than 15 to twenty miles distant, and the territory through which the new line is to run is said to be one of the most fertile and valuable in

TWO WEEKS

And Possibly More Will Be Required By Supervisors.

The city and county supervisors are still pegging away over the books, and will be busy for some time to come.

There are not many raises in assessment of a great size this year, and the total raise will amount to a great deal less in both city and county than last year.

The city supervisors work by plat and the county supervisors perform the work as they come to it. Both boards have been granted an extension of time and will be busy for two weeks longer.

Subscribers will favor us if they will report any delays or failures in the delivery of their papers. Kindly phone 358 every time you miss your paper.

A Banker's Diary

Number of bank depositors, over 13,000,000.

Number of savings bank depositors, 7,305,000.

(This estimate is not up to date, for we are adding new depositors to this bank all the time.)

Total amount of savings bank deposits, about $3,060,169,000.

Savings bank depositors form a little over half the total number of bank depositors. The average savings account is over $400.

THE JUDICIARY AND POLITICS.

The Louisville Bar Association has taken up the commendable but rather hopeless task of removing the judiciary from politics. As long as the judges are elected and are paid good salaries, there will be unworthy men, occasionally at least, to go out after the jobs. In politics men are not always nominated for their good qualifications, nor elected for that reason, either. Too often men are chosen simply because they are politicians.

The Louisville attorneys, however, have decided to draft a bill to be submitted to the legislature making possible the nomination of the same men by different parties for judgeships. Hon. Henry Burnett, our former fellow citizen, read a fine paper before the Louisville association on "How May an Election of Judges Be Taken Out of Politics?" and there was a great deal of interest and enthusiasm in the discussion. The Louisville Herald remarks anent the move:

"Although the measure as a reform is new to Louisville; it is an accomplished fact in several of the northern states, notably Massachusetts and New York. In the former state judges are appointed by the governor, and remain in office during good behavior. Their entrance into politics is regarded improper."

"In New York the foisting of politics into judiciary races has cost the democratic party repeated defeats."

"In preparation for the discussion yesterday the methods of other states successful in the reform had been inquired into by members of the association. The prevailing sentiment of the members present was that the reform should be and would be brought about if it lay in the power of the Louisville bar to accomplish that end."

PROTECTING PUBLIC HEALTH.
The Fulton Commercial calls attention to a practice that is prevalent to a greater or less extent in nearly every city—that of being more considerate towards people whose family or members of whose family, are affected with contagious diseases, than for the hundreds and frequently thousands of other people whose health and lives are jeopardized by the often criminal favors shown these unfortunate afflicted. We can all sympathize with and even help, those who are afflicted and in distress, but we should not be expected by so doing to expose others to the danger of becoming similarly afflicted. The Fulton paper evidently speaks from experience when it says:

"We regretfully announce that our optimistic view or hope that we were free from scarlet fever in the city, has failed of realization. There is scarlet fever here. One case we know of certain and there are others. We call upon the health authorities to promptly quarantine every case and family in which there is a case of the fever. No use for us to talk of discomfort or inconvenience for those who are so unfortunate as to have the disease. The lives of the children of the city must be guarded. This is as far as we will insist at present.

"It may become necessary to adopt other measures to prevent the spread of the disease. What we do insist on now, is that absolute and effective quarantine measures be adopted and enforced."

It is stated that a Democratic alderman claims "they have it fixed" to elect Alderman Davis president of the board tomorrow night. "They" doubtless have it fixed only among themselves, and "they" haven't grown any in numbers or importance since the last meeting.

If the legislature does not get down to work pretty quick, the people will unanimously endorse the proposed site next to the Feeble Minded Institute.

COUNTY SCHOOLS
CLOSING FOR TERMPublic School at Lone Oak Closed Today.

Tomorrow the School Term Near Lovelaceville Will End Its Term—Others to Follow.

LONE OAK ENTERTAINS FEB. 22

Today the public school at Lone Oak, Miss May Ellis teacher, will close and tomorrow the school near Lovelaceville, Miss May Young teacher, will close. These are among the first schools to close, but others will follow in quick order.

The session in county schools is only six months and they take up about the same time the city schools do. The season has been a good one with little trouble except in one or two districts.

The college at Lone Oak is increasing in popularity and many new pupils are being secured. On the 22nd of February, Washington's birthday, the pupils and teacher will give an entertainment. An elaborate program will be prepared.

The teachers recently organized among the pupils a literary society which meets every Thursday. The society has already become a subject of much interest in the schools although it has been organized only a week.

The last Friday and Saturday of this month Supt. Ragsdale will hold examinations at the county courthouse here, and at Grahamville, for common school graduates certificates, and eight or ten applicants are expected to show up.

Verdict in the Day Personal Injury Trial.

New Trial to Be Asked in Stevenson Case—Dr. D. T. Stuart Sues For Falling Into Ditch.

SOME NEWS OF OTHER COURTS.

Circuit Court.

The case of S. W. Day against the Palmer Transfer Co. today resulted in a verdict for the defendant.

The suit of James Doolin against Officer Gus Rogers for $5,000 damages for alleged false arrest was dismissed in circuit court yesterday afternoon at the instance of Attorney Worton, for the plaintiff. The boy was arrested for disturbing the peace by drawing a large crowd by sparring with another boy at Second and Broadway, regular boxing gloves being used.

The case of S. W. Day, father-in-law of S. W. McKee, the stave man formerly of Paducah, but now of Louisville, against the Palmer Transfer company for $2,500 damages for injuries received about 18 months ago by being in a back that went down an embankment near the I. C. passenger depot, was taken up yesterday. The transfer company made the city of Paducah a party to the suit, alleging that the accident was due to inadequate railing along the embankment. The court yesterday dismissed the city of Paducah on the plea of limitation, it not having been made a party to the suit until a year after the accident.

The case of J. M. Wortham against Clark McTyre was dismissed without prejudice.

Attorneys for the defendant in the case of L. E. Stevenson, administrator of Lucy Stevenson, against the I. C. road, will file a motion for a new trial and hope to secure it without much trouble. This is the case in which the jury yesterday returned a verdict for $25,000, the full amount asked.

The case of J. H. Moore against J. W. Riglesberger and brother, was dismissed without prejudice.

The case of Vernon Blythe against the Paducah City Railway Co., resulted in a verdict for the defendant. Dr. Blythe sued for $160 damages to his horse which was struck by a car.

Wills Probated.
The last will of the late Capt. Joe Fowler was admitted to probate in county court yesterday, and was dated Dec. 26, 1878, and witnessed by W. H. Jones, J. C. Cobb and Henry Enders. All the property of the deceased is left to his wife, who is named as executrix without bond.

The will of the late Mrs. Wilson Thompson was filed but not probated, it being ordered that the depositions be taken at Houston, Tex., of Noah Allen and J. D. Duckett, who witnessed the document. Mrs. Birdie Wilbur is named as executrix, and will remain here until the will is probated.

Trunks Still Held.
The Ezra Kendall company is now playing in Jacksonville, Fla., and the manager has written a letter here saying the costs and amount sued for in the attachment case brought by Mr. L. A. Lagomarsino to secure payment of $8 for lunch members of the company ordered and refused, would be paid.

The trunks are being held and will be until the case is settled in court.

Sues for Death of J. W. Morefield.
A. N. Sears, administrator of the estate of J. W. Morefield today filed suit against the Mergenthaler-Horton Basket Co. for $15,000 for the loss of life.

Morefield was employed by the defendant and on the 24th of November fell into a vat of boiling water and was fatally burned, dying that night. It is alleged that the vat was not properly protected and that the accident was due to the negligence of the defense.

Victory for Attorney Oliver.

Attorney George Oliver this afternoon received a telegram from Frankfort saying that the judgment of the lower court in the case of Hall and Sanderson against the Continental Insurance Co., had been confirmed which means a victory for the Paducah lawyer who conducted the case for the defense. The plaintiff sued on a $600 policy. It seems that Hall sold the house to Mrs. Sanderson and failed to transfer the policy, and when the house burned, tried to collect it.

Suit Over Bad Streets.

D. T. Stuart has filed suit against Contractors George Gardner, Charles Robertson and the city of Paducah for damages amounting to $251. He alleges his horse fell into storm water sewerage excavations near Sixth and Broadway, September 17. The excavations had sunk and caused a mire and the horse was injured, also the buggy and the harness. The bill of the veterinary is included in the suit.

Happy Birthday Party.

Master Henry Charles Harmeling, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Harmeling, entertained a crowd of little friends yesterday afternoon at his home 409 North Fifth street in honor of his sixth birthday, and the event was, the juvenile social function of the winter on the North Side. The house was decorated in red and white and evergreens and everything was attractive and pleasing as care and taste could make them.

Master Henry hospitably received his guests, and had prepared for them all kinds of games and amusements, one of which was a genuine cake walk, the prize in which was won by Miss Edna Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Will Clark.

A grand march to stirring music led them all to refreshments, and as in the other things, Master Henry had neglected nothing. There was everything good for the little folks and at the close of the banquet a novelty was sprung when they "cut the pie." A huge pie had been prepared, with red ribbons suspended from various parts of it. Each little lady and gentleman took a ribbon and pulled it, and drew forth a souvenir of the occasion.

The party was one that will long be remembered by the young host,
who received many presents, as well as his guests.

Those present were: Misses Emma Boyd, Inez Ayers, Frances Soule, Edna Clark, Elizabeth Nagle, Dorothy Brainard, Irma Bryant, Bessie Michael; Masters George Byers, Ed-

WORSE EVERY YEAR.

And Plenty of Paducah Readers

Have the Same Experience.

Don't neglect an aching back.

It will get worse every year.

Backache is really kidney ache.

To cure the backache you must cure the kidneys.

If you don't, other kidney ills follow.

Urinary troubles, diabetes, Bright's disease.

A Paducah citizen tells you how the cure is easy.

Mrs. C. H. Wilson, of 520 South Fourth street, says: "My father died with Bright's disease, and knowing what he suffered I was continually anxious about my own condition, particularly so then. I suffered untold misery for years with backache and kidney complaint. I have had attacks that compelled me to keep my bed for weeks, and no matter how comfortable my surroundings, the mattress seemed like a bed of rocks, and every movement I made felt like a dagger was piercing me in the kidneys. The worst attack I ever had was just previous to sending to DuBois, Kolb & Co.'s drug store for Doan's Kidney Pills. I actually collapsed; there was swelling plainly visible across the loins and the aching was excruciating. When a few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills gave relief I could only call the help a Godsend. A continuation of the treatment disposed of the last attack. I eat well, sleep better and at present am in the best of health. Send anyone to me for minute particulars about my experience with and opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Cured Lumbago.

A. B. Canman, Chicago, writes March 4, 1902: "Having been troubled with Lumbago at different times and tried one physician after another; then different ointments and linaments, gave it up altogether.

So I tried once more, and got a bottle of Ballard's Snow Liniment, which gave me almost instant relief.

I can cheerfully recommend it, and will add my name to your list of former sufferers." 25c, 50c and $1.00.

I have used it in my family and can cheerfully affirm it is the most effective and pleasant remedy for coughs and colds I have ever used."

Jury Saw Comic Opera.

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 18.—For the first time in criminal history, it is believed, the fact that a jury sitting on a capital case went to witness a comic opera under guard of a sheriff is set up as one of the grounds why a new trial should be granted.

The defendant in the case is James

Garfield Smith, a negro, who was convicted of the murder of William

Moore and sentenced to be hanged.

While the trial was in progress the

"Red Feather" was given in the city and the jury attended.

The only issue of the defense was an alibi, and in the plot of the play alibis are ridiculed, and because of this the defendant's counsel alleges that it had a tendency to prejudice

the minds of the jury against the substantial rights of the negro and destroy the effect of his testimony tending to show an alibi. Hence a new trial is demanded.

CHAPTER III.
THERE was more of hurry than of kingly dignity in the entrance of Charles. The handsome face was marred by an imperious querulousness that for the moment detracted from its acknowledged nobility.

"Strafford," he cried impatiently, "I have been kept waiting. Servants are at this moment searching palace and park for you. Where have you been?"

"I was in the forest, your majesty. I am deeply grieved to learn that you needed me."

"I never needed you more than now. Are you ready to travel?"

Strafford's gloomy face almost lighted up.

"On the instant, your majesty," he replied, with a sigh of relief.

"That is well. I trust your malady is alleviated, in some measure at least. Still, I know that sickness has never been a bar to duty with you. Yet I ask no man to do what I am not willing to do myself for the good of the state, and I shall be shortly on the road at your heels."

"Whither, your majesty?" asked the earl, with failing countenance, for it was to Ireland he desired to journey, and he knew the king had no intention of moving toward the west.

"To London, of course; a short stint over bad roads. But if you are ailing and fear the highway, a barge on the river is at your disposal."

"To London!" echoed the earl, something almost akin to dismay in his tone. "I had hoped your majesty would order me to Ireland, which, I assure your majesty, has been somewhat neglected of late."

"Yes, yes," exclaimed the king brusquely; "I know your anxiety in that quarter. A man ever thinks that task the most important with which he intimately deals, but my position gives me a view over the whole realm, and the various matters of state assume their just proportions in my eyes, their due relations to each other. Ireland is well enough, but it is the heart and not the limbs of the empire that requires the physicians' care. Parliament has opened badly and is like to give trouble unless treated with a firm hand."

The hand of the earl appeared anything but firm. It wavered as it sought the support of the chair's arm.

"Have I your majesty's permission to be seated? I am not well," Strafford said faintly.

"Surely, surely!" cried the king, himself taking a chair. "I am deeply grieved to see you so unwell, but a journey to London is a small matter compared with a march upon Dublin, which is like to have killed you in your present condition."

"Indeed, your majesty, the smaller journey may well have the more fatal termination," murmured the earl, but the king paid no attention to the remark, for his wandering eye now caught sight of a third in the conference, which brought surprised displeasure to his brow. The girl was standing behind the high back of the chair in which she had been seated, in a gloomy angle where the firelight which played so plainly on the king and Strafford did not touch her.

"Whom have we here? The flippant prophet of the forest, or my eyes deceive me! How comes this girl in my palace, so intimate with my Lord Strafford, who seemed to meet her as a stranger but yesterday?"

The slumbering suspicion of Charles was aroused, and he glanced from one to the other in haughty questioning.

"I never met her until I encountered her in the forest when I had the honor to accompany your majesty. Today, as I walked with De Courcy and others, there came a second accosting from her, as unexpected as the first. The girl craved private speech with me, which I somewhat reluctantly granted. The upshot is she brings me proof, which I cannot deny, that she is my eldest daughter!"

"Your eldest daughter!" cried the king, amazed. "Is your family, then, so widely scattered and so far unknown to you that such a claimant may spring up at any moment?"

"I was married privately to the daughter of Sir John Warburton. Circumstances separated me from my wife, and, although her father curiously informed me of her death, he said nothing of issue. There was a feud between us—entirely on his part. I had fought against him. It seems he has been dead this year past, and my daughter, getting news of her father among Sir John's papers, comes thus southward to make inquiry."

"You fall into good fortune, my girl. Your extraordinary claim is most readily allowed."

Frances, finding nothing to say, kept silence and bowed her head to the king, whom she had regarded throughout with rapt attention.

"Where got you your gift of prophecy? Is prescience hereditary, and has your father's mantle already fallen on your shoulders? He is my best friend, you said, and I my worst enemy. Madam, you did not lack for boldness, but the force of the flattery of your father is lessened by my knowledge of your aches, and Frances recognized the French spark whom she had so frankly characterized earlier in the day.

"My lord," protested De Courcy jauntily, "you have your comrades at a disadvantage. You have captured the woodland nymph and, I hear, propose separating her away to London. I do protest 'tis most unfair to those who are thus left behind."

"Sir," said Strafford, with severity, pausing in his walk, "I would have you know that the lady to whom you refer is the Lady Frances Wentworth, my eldest daughter, ever to be spoken of with respect by high and low. Native and foreign shall speak otherwise at their distinct peril."

(To Be Continued.)

Rev. Carlisle P. B. Martin, L. L. D. Of Waverly, Texas, writes: "Of a morning, when first arising, I often find a troublesome collection of phlegm, which produces a cough and is very hard to dislodge; but a small quantity of Ballard's Horehound Syrup will at once dislodge it, and the trouble is over. I know of no medicine that is equal to it, and it is so pleasant to take. I can most cordially recommend it to all persons needing a medicine for throat or lung trouble." 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by DuBois, Kolb & Co.

WOMEN FOUGHT.

Polly Hicks and Bettie Scott, colored, Cut Each Other.

Polly Hicks and Bettie Scott, colored, are in jail pending trial tomorrow for malicious cutting. They got into a fight this morning and created a general disturbance in the neighborhood of 10th and Finley streets in the north end of the city.

The Scott woman struck the Hicks woman in the head with a pitcher, it is alleged, because the latter "called her out of her name."

The Hickman woman pulled a knife and cut her antagonist in the face. The Scott woman grabbed the knife away from the Hicks woman and cut the latter on the arm.

Both injuries are slight being merely flesh wounds. The wounds were dressed at the city hall.

Shot Full of Holes.

"Tut, tut! Such things are not to be spoken in the precincts of a court. No, nor thought. He is not a selfish monarch, other than all monarchs are selfish, but discussion on such a theme is fruitless and I must be nearing my dotage to begin it. I am far from well, Frances, and so, like the infirm, must take to babbling."

"Do you fear parliament, my lord? How can it harm you when you have the favor of the king?"

"I fear nothing, my girl, except foolish, unseemly interference, interference that may not be struck at or even hinted against. Did they teach you the history of France in your school?"

"No, my lord."

"Then study it as you grow older. I'll warrant you'll find it interesting enough. Ruined by women. Ruined by women. Seven civil wars in seventeen years, and all because of viperish, brainless women. Well, we have one of the breed here in England, and God help us!"

"You mean the queen, my lord?"

"Hush! Curses on it, will you not be as outspoken as another of your sex is spiteful and subtle? Mend your manners, hussy, and guard your tongue. Could you not see you spoke too freely to the king a moment since?"

"Sir, I am sorry."

"Be not sorry, but cautious."

Strafford fell into a reverie, and there was silence in the room until the servant entered and announced that the coach was ready, whereupon his master rose unsteadily.

"Sir," said the girl, "will you not eat or drink before you depart?"

"No." Then, looking sharply at his daughter, he inquired, "Are you hungry?"

"Yes, my lord."

"Bring hither some refreshments, whatever is most ready at hand, and a measure of hot spiced wine. I had forgotten your youth, Frances, thinking all the world was old with me."

When the refection came she ate but sparingly despite her proclamation, but coaxed him to partake and to drink a cup of wine. He ordered a woman's cloak brought for her, which when she had thrown it over her shoulders he himself fastened at her throat.

"There," he said when the cloak enveloped her, "that will protect you somewhat, for the night grows cold."

Strafford himself was wrapped in warm furs, and thus together they went down the stairs to the court, now dimly lighted. A cavalier who seemed to have been standing in wait for them stepped out from the shadow of the Pepsin Syrup Co., Monticello, Ill.

Gentlemen:—Last summer I was all run down from the ravages of asthma. My digestion was just about as bad as it could be, to digest at all, and in fact I was in such a condition that I was compelled to secure leave of absence from duty for two months, and "doctor up" and rest for a while. One of our passenger conductors spoke in glowing terms to me of your Syrup Pepsin. More to satisfy my folks than through any faith in the medicine, I agreed to try it.

I secured three bottles and took it according to directions faithfully. The result amazed me, as well as my local physician who seemingly had been unable to afford me any relief from the bloating after meals, terrible taste in my mouth almost constantly, and constant constipation. In ten days time I began to eat food that I had been "scared of" for ten months; the bloating and labored breathing after meals began to subside and my sleep began to benefit me. I kept right on with the Pepsin and in six weeks time I ate whatever I craved and when I felt like it.

I keep a bottle in my house constantly and whenever I need it I tackle it, and I find prompt relief from the maladies it is made to cure.

Any letters of inquiry from sufferers from indigestion or bowel trouble will be cheerfully and promptly answered. Yours very truly,

M. A. MORELAND,

F. & T. A. "Big Four Route."
